

US- La Marzocco at the NRA Show 2007

McCormick Place in Chicago -The 2007 National Restaurant Association Show is the place to be for anyone covering restaurants, hospitality and food. As the industry's largest event, attracting more than 70,000 attendees and 2,000 exhibitors, it's the best all-in-one venue to check out the hottest trends in food and beverage, equipment, technology, and more.

Even this year La Marzocco will be displaying its equipments at this important event attended by many international coffee connoisseurs at Espresso Specialists booth #3231.

Many interesting meeting are taking place during this show, in particular is not to be missed The Chef's Espresso Lab, featuring Mike Love, owner of Coffee Lab Roasters in New York state and 15-year chef, hosted by Espresso Specialists (#3231).

This training will cover the main preparations of coffee based beverages as per the latest trends of this continuously evolving market.

Only a selected group of chefs, restaurateurs and senior F & B managers have been invited to participate in this Lab.
